

WHITE CUBE

LOCATION :

Rue de la Tulipe 35A Tulpstraat - Ixelles (Brussels) - Belgium

FLOOR :

Ground floor

SURFACE AREA :

30 m<sup>2</sup>

Wooden panels of 2x2 meters form the limits of a black space. The cube houses the artistic experiment. Behind its surfaces, it conceals the domestic functions.

- . The project seeks to appeal the visitor:
- . The first side of the cube provides a showcase of the exhibition to the city-dweller.
- . A shift breaks the closed form of the cube, suggests its content and invites the way.
- . By suspending the square plans, the urban environment is absorbed into the black. The eye is at the center of the space and follows the directions of the modular light.
- . The domestic capability allows a peaceful relationship between artistic production and its monstration, a thoughtful transition.

The place weaves a friendly relationship with creation. Its advises an intimate approach to the work: retrieving the confidential report met with art.
